PROMINENT CITIZEN PASSES AWAY ON MONDAY LAST AT EDMONTON HOSPITAL

Sudden Death of Walter J. Musson—Sad Blow to Town and District One of the Oldest and Most Respected Citizens in Wainwright District—Born in Weston, Ontario, 1880

LATE WALTER J. MUSSON

As a bolt from the blue came the message from Edmonton on Monday that W. J. Musson had suddenly expired from heart failure after successfully coming through an operation for appendicitis on Saturday morning.

Mr. Musson was taken ill on Thursday morning at an early hour and it was considered the wisest course for him to have prompt attention in Edmonton where he was taken the same afternoon.

Dr. A. A. Nicholls operated on Saturday morning and the results exceeded even the most sanguine expectations. In fact the patient was making such rapid progress towards recovery that Mrs. Washburn and R. A. Snyder who had been in attendance saw no further need for their remaining over and returned to Wainwright on Sunday bearing the best of news.

The last call came without warning and he passed peacefully away to the reward of a good man who will be mourned by all who had the privilege of knowing him whether in the east or west.

His daughter Mrs. A. E. Mills had been constantly at his bedside and to her the blow is the more heavy because of her husband's unavoidable absence in the north country at the time of the sad occurrence. The sympathy of the whole community will go out to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mills in their irreparable loss of one who was near and dear to them in countless ways never to be forgotten.

Walter James Musson was born at Weston, Ontario on August 7th, 1880 and his boyhood days were spent in the neighborhood of Whitley.

As a young man he entered the service of the Manitoba North West Central Railroad Company and was at one time station agent at Chatter a few miles from Brandon, Man.

In 1907 he entered into partnership with P. E. Ross in the hardware business and was one of the Denwood pioneers. He continued as senior partner of the firm up to the time of his decease.

As a private citizen and as a public official the deceased was looked up to and respected by all classes and creeds. To know him was a liberal education and while we grieve at his passing we are assured that his works to truly follow him.

He twice refused the Mayor's chair in the Wainwright council though as a councillor he faithfully served the town for a long period.

He was a Mason of high degree and was a Past Master of Buffalo Park Lodge, Wainwright. He was also a Past Worthy Patron of the order of Eastern Star and Treasurer of the following organizations in the town: Masonic Lodge, Order of Eastern Star, Wainwright Agricultural Society, Wainwright Gun Club, Conservative Association and others of lesser importance. In all of these his work was of the highest order and his place will be hard to fill.

He died a staunch member of the Church of England and his assistance to the local congregation of that faith is a matter of record.

His wife predeceased him by many years, while still in her youth and Mrs. A. E. Mills is an only daughter. Open-hearted, charitable and public spirited, we look around in vain for someone who can genuinely follow in the footsteps of Walter Musson.

He was a sportsman and a gentleman and though he has reached his final rest and his place knows him no more, let us cherish his memory and emulate his virtues.

The funeral will take place from St. Thomas' Church Wainwright, today at 2.30 p. m.

MANAGEMENT OF RINK STILL UNSETTLED

McQuaker & McKay Only Tender in At Present—Poor Light and Waiting Rooms

WILL WAINWRIGHT HAVE A RINK

Council Object Very Strongly To The Prospect of Having To Operate It Themselves

Will the rink be opened this year, and if so, who is going to be in charge? This seems to be a favorite topic of conversation these days. The rink most certainly will be opened, as the town could not afford to have it otherwise, but this question as to who will be the managers has not as yet been decided. The STAR is not aware of any tenders other than that of McQuaker & McKay, but it is understood that the council objects very strenuously to the possible prospects of having to operate it themselves, and will therefore, in all likelihood, come to a satisfactory agreement with the parties mentioned above. Just at present the Council is conspicuous by its absence, two Councillors only, namely Snyder and Beaudry being on hand besides the Mayor. This fact may cause delay which would be unfortunate as it is high time the rink was being put in shape for the coming season. Of the various matters requiring attention, perhaps the most important are additional light and warmer waiting rooms. While the Council is a bit canny about spending any more money on our rink, on the other hand they will have to arrange conditions for the comfort of the people if they wish their patronage. Also if there is to be a hockey team this year, which many are already talking of, it is out of the question to expect them to play with such lights as was supplied last winter. Not only was it impossible to play proper hockey, but was extremely dangerous to the players who half the time could not see the puck. We feel satisfied however that the council will do everything in reason to make the coming season a successful one.

WELL-KNOWN GILT EDGE LADY WINS SUIT AGAINST I.H.C.

The Case Will Likely Be Taken To Supreme Court Before Settled

Last Thursday at Edmonton in the District Court before Judge Lees, the case of Mrs. Victorine Denoncourt vs the International Harvester Co. was decided in favour of the plaintiff with costs against the defendant company.

The case arose over the seizure of certain live stock by the Sheriff for a claim against the husband and son of the plaintiff.

Mrs. Denoncourt claimed absolute ownership of the stock in question and proved her title to the satisfaction of the presiding judge.

The case will likely be taken to the Supreme Court before a final settlement is reached.

Several witnesses from Gilt Edge and Wainwright were examined in connection with the suit.

MRS. R. F. DAYTON AWARDED MEDAL AND $25 PENSION

Husband Lost His Life While Successfully Saving Another From Gas Fumes

Among the awards granted Oct. 31st by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at Pittsburgh was a pension of $25 per month and a silver medal granted to Mrs. R. Frederick Dayton of Battle River, Alta., whose husband lost his life in an endeavour to save that of a friend.

The circumstances of the case, which happened May 1912, are briefly as follows. A farmer by name of Wm. Kilpatrick while digging a well was overcome by gas and would have perished had Dayton not been called to the rescue. Dayton, although suffering from sickness at the time, was successful in having Kilpatrick taken out where he later revived, but in doing so he so weakened himself that he was overcome, and when finally brought to the surface nothing could be done to save his life.

We call to mind a similar case in our immediate vicinity very deserving of recognition namely the rescue by A. Bettley

WAINWRIGHT DISTRICT WELL SUPPLIED WITH WATER

It has always been conceded that to obtain water in the town of Wainwright and the surrounding district was a matter of little moment, some in fact having a great deal more than they could handle. The STAR is in receipt of a letter from Messrs. Willison & Meredith, well-diggers, who recently drilled wells for the Buffalo Park and the G. T. P. meeting in both cases with great success, in which they refer to our water supply. In view of the fact that these people have been drilling wells for from 35 to 40 years throughout the greater part of United States, their statements that in all their experiences they have never operated in a country as well supplied with water as the Wainwright District, is to say the least is quite a boost. The firm is operating in Edmonton, where the same conditions are experienced as here, namely, a considerable depth of quicksand necessitating in most cases a very deep well. To offset this however, water is always found in great abundance, and of the best quality.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A party of young people from Gilt Edge journeyed down to Battle Valley on the eve of Halloween where they were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lake. Songs music and dancing were indulged in until the wee sma hours.

METHODISTS MADE SUCCESS OF ANNIVERSARY

Ladies Fulfilled Their Arduous Duties By Preparing An Elaborate Dinner.

AN ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT

Rev. A. R. Aldridge of Edmonton Very Fluent and Interesting Speaker.

On Sunday, Nov. 2nd the Grace Methodist Church celebrated their 5th anniversary and on Monday evening entertained a large number of Wainwright citizens with a game dinner and concert at the Elite Theatre. The anniversary services on Sunday were conducted by Rev. A. R. Aldridge, pastor of Bethel Church Edmonton, who, needless to say proved to be a very fluent and interesting speaker. His text which was taken from Isaiah, 55, 13, and reads "instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the myrtle tree" was singularly appropriate to the occasion. He enlarged on this text under three headings, Physical, Moral, and Spiritual, making his points plain and his comparisons interesting, so that all in the crowded church might clearly understand. We say the text was appropriate as in speaking from the physical standpoint the comparisons were chiefly of the western farm and other matters of interest to grain growers.

Very suitable and pleasing music was furnished by the choir which was out in full strength.

On Monday evening the ladies of the Methodist church gave a fowl dinner in the Elite Theatre. The theatre was crowded to its fullest capacity from 5.30 to 7.30 p. m. and judging from the pleased and benighted expression which overspread each one's face as he or she rose from the table, the dinner was properly appreciated.

This is the third church dinner given during the past few weeks and it would be unwise to make any comparison. It can be said with safety that the ladies fulfilled their arduous duties in a most commendatory manner and they are to be congratulated on the way in which the dinner was cooked and served.

After dinner was finished the theatre was put in order and a most interesting and enjoyable concert and entertainment was given by the members of the choir of the Methodist church. During the course of the programme, addresses were given by Rev. A. R. Aldridge, Edmonton; Mr. Geo. L. Hudson, M.P.P. Rev. A. Russell and Rev. T. F. Marshall and the speakers made several commendatory remarks as to the excellency of the dinner served by the ladies.

Rev. C. R. Corcoran discharged the duties of chairman in a dignified and satisfactory manner and in introducing the various artists made many witty remarks which provoked repeated laughter from the audience. It was his misfortune however, to outward appearances of considerable weight, to be made the butt for much good natured chaff on the part of the other speakers.

The following were the names of those who took an active part in the concert:—Mrs. Little Mrs. Ward, Mrs. H. Carbert, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Gerow, Miss Parsons, Messrs. Lewthwaite, Maddier, Grainger, H. Carbert and Kemp. The accompaniments were skill-

FIRE DESTROYED BARN AND CONTENTS LAST WEEK

Sparks From Chimney Seem To Have Been The Cause of The Fire Breaking Out

VALUABLE HORSE LOST IN FIRE

Loss is Estimated In The Neighborhood of $1000 and No Insurance

Tuesday of last week was an unlucky day for Mr. Joe Louie, he having the misfortune to loose his stable and contents together with a horse which he valued at $300, by fire. The loss is estimated at $1000, and as no insurance was carried, it is a heavy blow to the owner.

It seems that Joe had been away from his homestead, and returning in a chilled condition had built a fire in the house. He cannot account for the conflagration in any other way except by sparks from the chimney of his house. His young son was the first to notice anything wrong, and even then the fire had gained too much headway to leave any hope of saving the building with the means at hand.

Had the boy given the alarm at once instead of running to the stable, in all likelihood the horse and the greater part of the contents might have been saved. He was however unable to handle the horse which was in a terrified condition, and as is usual in such cases, refused to leave the building.

This misfortune, although not heavy for some, means a great deal to Mr. Louie. A subscription list has been started to assist him in a fresh start, and it is pleasing to see that the Wainwright citizens can be generous to their neighbors in hard luck.

FIRE BRIGADE CALLED OUT ON MONDAY EVENING

Gasoline Stove Collapsed and Caused A Stir Among the Ladies—Alarm was turned in—No Damage done

While the ladies of the Methodist Church were preparing dinner in the Elite theatre on Monday evening a gasoline stove on which they were making tea and coffee collapsed, causing an overflow of gasoline to the different burners. At no time was there any particular danger, as the flames, although rising to quite a height, were not within reach of anything inflammable. Immediately the accident occurred one of the ladies turned in an alarm to which the fire brigade responded in record time.

We can get along very well without any fires, but it does no harm to have an occasional scare in order that the brigade may not get rusty.

fully and gracefully played by Miss Mohr.

The Church is lucky in having such talented members and no words would be too praiseworthy in which to describe the rendering of the musical programme.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of The National Anthem by the whole audience and choir.

ACCIDENT TO WELL-KNOWN TOWN LADY

Mrs. W. B. Crawford Badly Injured In Desperate Runaway Yesterday

DASHED WILDLY UP MAIN ST

Miss Andrews and R. D. Henry's Small Son Have Miraculous Escape

Terrified by G. L. Gregson's automobile which was standing in front of Lush's store, A. C. Armstrong's single driver dashed wildly up Main street on Tuesday evening and the occupants of the democrat to which it was harnessed were dashed on the prairie. The horse, was being driven by Miss Andrews who was accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Crawford and her little grandson. Miss Andrews hung on luckily until they came to a sharp turn south of James Ward's residence, where the democrat was overturned, both shafts broken and all three occupants of the rig thrown out. Miraculous to state Miss Andrews and the little Henry boy escaped practically without injury, but we regret to report that Mrs. Crawford sustained severe injuries and is in a precarious condition.

Her nose, her right arm and thumb on her left hand were broken and it is feared that she was internally injured in addition.

Rev. H. D. Mann, Western Representative of the Canadian Bible Society will conduct the service at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning Nov. 9th, and at the Methodist Church in the evening of the same day.

A Church of England Service will be held in the Gilt Edge school on Sunday Nov. 10th next at 3 p. m. followed by a celebration of the Holy Communion. This will be probably the last service held by Rev. Mr. Marshall in this district for this year, so all are asked to attend.

THRESHING COMPLETED

Threshing operations are completed in this district and although complete returns of the amount threshed are not to hand, threshers are unanimous in saying that this season has been from a financial point of view the best they have yet had and they are all well satisfied with results.

QUESTION OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC DISCUSSED AT MEETING

It Was Decided To Hold Field Day At Wainwright Churches

Following the Methodist Anniversary service on Sunday Nov. 2nd, a gathering of church members was addressed by Rev. A. R. Aldridge, on the question of the liquor traffic. Rev. Aldridge, in addition to being the pastor of Bethel Church, Edmonton, is also one of the Secretaries of the Moral Temperance and Reform League of Alberta. After a short discussion it was decided to hold a local Field Day when all the pulpits will be open to a temperance speaker. The date has been left for the local executive to decide upon.

T. G. Cook was a business visitor to Mirror and Edmonton last week returning home today.

Editor and Publisher

WAINWRIGHT ALTA., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27th, 1913

THE Edmonton Daily Capital—whose editor keeps close tab on the proceedings of the Legislature, had occasion last week to make some very pertinent comment in a "restraining" way on the work of certain members of the house. In doing so he selected but a few men whose efforts on behalf of their constituents called for special mention. It should be a matter for self-congratulation on the part of Conservatives in the Wainwright district that their representative Mr. Geo. L. Hudson was one of OF THE OPPOSITION marked commendation and approval and that by an avowed Liberal organ.

The Capital truly states that the Wainwright member gave the people of his best and no man can do more. It may be safely predicted that our local representative has only to continue his good work in the Alberta House retaining the "aggressiveness and insistence" referred to by the Capital, and the high places in the political arena will assuredly open their doors at his touch, we believe at no far distant date.

AFTER having traversed the stormiest financial sea of difficulties ever experienced by municipalities all through the Dominion, the Town Council are at least in sight of shore and a few remarks relevant to the situation past and present should be quite in order.

The Mayor and Councillors have from time to time been subjected to criticism of a strong order, very often by people not on the inside with regard to the Town's methods of financing. While these methods were open to improvement in the early part of the present year and it was felt generally that the much talked-of debenture sale could have been effected earlier in the season, we think it should be made a matter of record, if only in fairness to a much abused body of conscientious citizens, that an extremely complicated situation has been handled with the skill of seasoned financiers. A policy of the strictest conservatism with regard to public expenditure was adopted several months ago and has borne good fruit.

THE WAINWRIGHT TOWN COUNCIL

This month will see the proceeds of $25,000 worth of bonds duly in hand, outstanding accounts cleared off and the Treasury with a probably substantial surplus.

To Secretary-Treasurer Kenney must be accorded a considerable meed of praise for his conduct of what has been a most difficult office. In his particular sphere it would be well-nigh impossible to discover his peer in Western Canada.

ALTHOUGH Western Canada's grain crop this year will show big returns it is not to be assumed that what the farmers will eventually receive for their harvest will in any way compare with the profits they will derive. When it is said that the crop will total between two hundred and two hundred and fifty million dollars, the casual observer is inclined to look at this as almost clear profit, which will go down into the pockets of farmers and remain there, growing with interest each year until finally he may become a multi-millionaire from the returns received from the land.

That Western Canada's grain crop will amount to much is not denied, but the cost of raising this crop has been proportionately large and it is reasonable to see where, if a farmer receives twice as much for that of 1912, his expenditures have been twice as great as the preceding year. And added to what his expenses were during the present year, many past due notes and other obligations coming to the ordinary agriculturalist have already or will soon come due. Much of the profits from this year's crop will be required to cover operations of former years, when seasons have been none too favourable.

There is something of importance to note in this condition of affairs. Primarily it is noted that the farmer during no year or in no season has experienced in financing which might resemble pleasure. He is continuously besieged by those to whom he is indebted and in a good year is stormed by his creditors from above, below and both sides. There is always someone waiting for the profits, however small, that the farmer receives.

NEW YORK CITY boasts of something new in the line of educational institutions, and a school for wives is the latest. The management announces that it will give a four-year course for girls; who, upon graduation and marriage, will be qualified to spend their husbands income to the best advantage and capable of insuring health against bad cooking and slovenly practices.

Dr. Stuart H. Kowe, principal of the school, says that upon graduation the young wife will be able to properly cook a good meal, converse intelligently on literature, history and equal suffrage. He further goes on to say that she will be able to trim her hats artistically and in up-to-date styles, keep it free from silly notions and yet not cost too much. She will be taught to use the thimble and needle and in other ways to make herself useful before entering the home prepared by her husband.

This school, it is said, is far more reaching in what it aims at than a course in domestic science. It educates the young woman along practical and useful lines. She is taught to converse as if she had been college bred and upon graduation is capable of taking her place in the social world.

The establishment of more schools of this kind throughout the country and in Canada would elevate womanhood to the highest level.

LOCAL

Messrs. Walker & Love have returned to Wainwright having spent the greater part of the summer in Edmonton in pursuit of their calling. Their future movements are not decided upon, but they expect to be in Wainwright a short time at least.

Mr. Blair, manager of the Pioneer Grain Company's elevator here reports business good and estimates an intake of about 1600 bushels daily. Shipping also is brisk and the mill appears to be getting its full share of the trade.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

Marriage also makes a man a Santa Claus for life.

Tank Beverly says a busy man is one who has a wife and a safety razor.

A woman always knows a lot of news when she comes home from the dressmaker's.

A girl is pretty well satisfied if the lines in her palm indicate that she will marry.

The average man's idea of a good business is one that takes him to New York several times a year.

Most of it is charged up to whisky and women, but the fact is, relatives make a good deal of trouble.

When a woman says she is taking up golf, it means that she is interested in some man who plays golf.

Buck Kilby says when he was a young man his reputation was such that the girls all called him "the Python."

A man can interest a woman by telling her he is going to be married. But he can not interest her by telling her that he is married.

A woman always compliments another woman's gown. A man glances casually at a new suit of clothes, exclaims at a crack, and says: "Where was the fire?"

FACTORIES IN THE WEST

Smaller Prairie Towns Appeared For the First Time in 1911

Much has been written since the census of manufacturers of 1911 was made public by the Government at Ottawa about the enormous development in manufacturing that has taken place in the last ten years in the larger cities of the West, such as Winnipeg, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Edmonton and others. A more recent bulletin from Ottawa indicates that the smaller towns in the West have also made a great expansion in manufacturing—in fact most of them came under the eye of the statisticians for the first time in 1911. This is perhaps a more striking evidence of the development of manufacturing in the West than is the growth in the larger cities.

In Manitoba, four towns—Dauphin, Neepawa, Morden and Virden—have thirteen industries with $200,000 capital, employing 187 hands and with products to the value of $489,000 annually. The wage bill of these smaller factory towns of Manitoba totalled $196,714 in the year 1911. Ten years ago there were no manufacturing establishments in any of these towns worthy of enumeration by the Census Bureau.

In Alberta five towns—Camrose, Coleman, Macleod, Red Deer and Wainwright—have twenty industries with $753,217 capital, employing 477 hands and producing products to the value of $623,203. The wage bill of these smaller factory towns of Alberta totalled $261,716 in the year 1911.

In Saskatchewan six towns—Moose-View, Melville, North Battleford, Swift Current, Weyburn and Yorkton—have twenty-four industries or industries with $499,450 capital, employing 417 hands and producing products to the value of $841,554. The wage bill of these smaller factory towns of Saskatchewan totalled $461,703 in 1911.

The possibilities for the future under a stable trade policy such as has prevailed during the past twenty years are enormous when one takes into consideration the fact that twenty years ago, and even as recently as ten years ago, some of Ontario's best manufacturing towns, such as Windsor, Walkerville, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Hope, Orillia and many others had no manufacturing development worthy of the name. To-day they are thriving industrial centres with busy workshops and highly skilled artisans—the ideal home market, in a word, for the farmers of the surrounding country. This is the development in store for the towns and cities of the West if a reasonable policy of encouragement for manufacturing is maintained.

VAST JOBBING TRADE

Interesting Figures from Winnipeg Regarding Western Business

Through the co-operation of Winnipeg's wholesale houses, Mr. Chas. F. Roland, the Winnipeg Industrial Commissioner, has compiled some striking statistics. In Winnipeg alone in 1912 the trade of firms in the lines that he has tallied was as follows:

Agricultural implements and farm machinery, $25,000,000; hardware, $15,000,000; groceries, $15,000,000; dry goods and notions, $15,000,000; men and boys' clothing, $15,000,000; hats and shoe trade, $5,000,000; automobile industry, $5,000,000; and so on, including large sums for railway and mechanical supplies, furniture, drugs, electrical appliances, chemicals, confectionery, meat products, leather goods, household necessities and other less important commodities. When to these figures are added the big wholesale turn over of other Western cities, the aggregate would be enormous.

Everyone takes pride in the vast business turn over of the West, but the question naturally arises, how much of this vast turn-over has found its way to the pockets of the Canadian mechanic and in turn to the pockets of the merchant and farmer who clothe and feed the Canadian workman and his family, whether in the West or the East? A great amount of the jobbing trade of the West must necessarily be concerned with imported goods, but under a stable trade policy Canadian made goods should secure greater proportions every year. Not only should the policy of the country be calculated to have these goods made in Canada, but they should be made in Western Canada. The Home Market is the best friend of the farmer, the merchant and the working man, as well as the manufacturer and the jobber. It is gratifying to see the policy, which has prevailed in Canada for the last thirty years, result in the establishment of many branches of American factories in both Western and Eastern Canada. That this movement may be accelerated, particularly in the West, must be the hope of every Canadian who realizes the necessity of a uniform development in Canada.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Elmer Lohr of Saratoga, Ind., "and I consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

NOT FEASIBLE NOWLeading Grain Grower Admits Impracticability of Free Trade at PresentThe controversy between the editor of the "Grain Growers' Guide" in Winnipeg and Mr. F. W. Green, secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, and one of the most prominent and experienced grain growers in Canada, is the "Guide" of recent date makes a reply to a communication from Mr. Green in answer to some charges that have been made against him. The following is an interesting paragraph from his letter:"On Free Trade, 'Working and Nile' is the charge. Wrong again.
I am in favor of Free Trade absolutely, as indicated above, but admit it hardly feasible at the present time. I am not in favor of a quick agreement, fixed up for oppose my own country or class.
Not in favor of free trade for my rival while I and my fellow farmers are to be bound. Not in favor of an agreement binding me to sell at a price my rival's garden can get for his. I am permitted unlimited range in mine. He below the average workman, near home, or from abroad, or their employers."In commenting on Mr. Green's letter the editor of the "Guide" makes no reference to the feasibility of free trade at the present time.CANADIAN WOOLThe Home Market is the Best Market For Canadian WoolIn the fiscal year of 1911 Canada imported about 5,000,000 pounds of wool, while her exports amounted to approximately 1,000,000 pounds, according to the report of the Department of Agriculture. This shows that we are importing about 5,000,000 more pounds of wool than we export, and when to this is added the 11,000,000 pounds of wool which is produced in Canada, some idea is formed of the great importance of the manufacture of woollen goods in Canada.Doubtless there will always be some grades of wool which our woollen manufacturers must import, just as in a great sheep country like the United States, it is not possible to grow wool, manufacturers have to import certain grades which cannot be grown in that country. Every farmer should secure a copy of the report of the Sheep Commission, which is now available at the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. It also shows the backward condition of the sheep industry of Canada at present, and indicates the profits that are to be made in raising sheep for meat and for wool. If Canada's trade policy is maintained, and the British Preference is not increased, there is bound to be an increase in the demand for wool from Canadian manufacturers, who, even under present conditions, obtain part of their requirements of Canadian wool.The experience of the United States during the past thirty years has shown that the home market is the best market in which the American can sell his wool, and the same is true in Canada.UNDERWOOD TARIFF BILLThe Schedule Under Revision is Compared With the Present Canadian DutiesThe following list of articles compared to the United States and Canadian tariffs shows the different rates of duty applicable to them under the present United States and Canadian tariffs, and the new Underwood Tariff Bill in United States. It indicates that even the Democratic revision of the United States tariff as incorporated in the Underwood Bill is still several degrees above the tariff of this country. It is difficult to see, therefore, just how those who advocate a downward revision of the Canadian tariff in sympathy with the present reduction in the United States have sound arguments on which to base their contentions. It would seem that it would be time enough for Canada to revise her tariff when the United States rates equal those of Canada.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

This Question in its Relation to Present Conditions of the Wool Industry

A study of the woolen industry in Canada is interesting at the present time in view of the agitation to increase the British Preference. In 1901, British manufacturers were given a preferential tariff rate, equivalent to 33.34 per cent. During that year the value of woollens imported into Canada from the United Kingdom amounted to $5,889,801. Under the stimulus of this low preferential rate importations rapidly increased; and although in 1909, the preferential rate was changed to 30 per cent. ad valorem, the importation of British goods increased so rapidly that, in 1911, it amounted to $12,688,287.

What happened to the woolen industry in Canada during this decade? In 1901, the capital invested was $2,887,808; in 1911, it was only $4,888,506.

This simply means that the British preferential tariff in woollens benefited British manufacturers at the expense of Canadian manufacturers.

Five factors contribute to the difference in the cost of production in the United Kingdom and in Canada. First, the cost of building and equipping a plant is much greater in Canada than in Britain. Secondly, interest charges on capital are greater in a new and partially developed country. Thirdly, Canadian manufacturers have not yet reached that stage of industrial development where they can specialize continuously, and are consequently compelled to fill some contracts at a loss. Fourthly, the greater part of the raw material is in the United Kingdom. In 1911, of the 7,196,486 pounds of raw wool imported into Canada, 3,965,728 pounds came from Britain. The fifth and most important factor is labor.

We do not want to keep skilled workmen out of Canada, or drive out those already here by decreasing their wages to the level of British wages.

If capital invested in the woolen industry decreased by $3,048,503 during the last census decade, what decrease may we expect during the next decade if the British preference on woollens is not reduced, and what would happen to our woolen industry if the preference were increased? In dealing with the British preferential tariff, not only in the woolen industry but in all Canadian industries, it is only reasonable that we should safeguard the workmen and the business of our own citizens first.

In view of the efforts that are being made by the Department of Agriculture of the Dominion and of the various provinces to encourage the raising of sheep, the foregoing statements about the effect of the British preference are not without interest to the Western farmer and prospective wool grower.

THE CHURCH AND SOCIAL QUESTIONS

Statement Adopted by General Assembly of Presbyterian Church

We believe that it is the duty of the church to show how these Christian principles apply to human affairs and to fit her teaching definitely and frankly to the social conditions of the present day.

"We hold that the Presbyterian Church in Canada ought to declare:

1. "For the acknowledgment of the obligations of wealth.

"The church declares that the getting of wealth should be in obedience to Christian ideals, and that all wealth must be held or administered as a trust from God for the good of humanity. The church emphasizes the danger, ever imminent to the individual and the society as well, of setting material welfare above righteous life. The church protests against undue desire for wealth, untimely pursuit of gain, and the immoderate exaltation of riches."

2. "For the application of Christian principles to the operations of industrial associations, whether of labour or capital.

3. "For a more equitable distribution of wealth.

"We hold that the distribution of the products of industry ought to be made such that it can be approved by the Christian conscience."

Continued next week

In Church Circles

The Presbyterians joined with the Methodists in their last Sunday evening service and rejoiced with them in the success and blessing of their anniversary season.

Next Sabbath Rev. H. Marrs The Provincial Representative of The Canadian Branch of the United and Foreign Bible Society will conduct the morning service in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church and will speak in the Methodist Church in the evening.

At the evening service, St. Andrews Church, the pastor will continue his messages on social topics taking as his subject "The social ideal of Jesus." The present social ideal is marked by many social evils and wrongs. It is well that they should be pointed out and if need be, denounced. But the important thing is, how are they to be cured? Does Jesus social ideals offer any solution? The sermon will deal with these questions.

We ask our readers to take note of the social creed of our church appearing in consecutive issues of this paper.

Dr. W. J. McQueen and Mr. F. Lush who were delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention held in Edmonton last week will report the proceedings of the Convention at an early date.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

Mrs. J. H. Gano who was taken to the Royal Alexandra Hospital last week underwent an operation and is reported doing nicely. She is expected to return here the end of this week.

On Wednesday evening Oct. 20th Mrs. McLiese Whitaker and Lewis Magoon, both of Bruce, were united in marriage by Rev. Corcoran at the Methodist Church parsonage. Both bride and groom, although having reached the ripe age of 76 years, still look forward to many years of happy wedded life.

We are pleased to report the return of Mr. G. L. Hudson M. L. A. from Edmonton, the session having come to a close. There is no doubt about our member having the interests of the Wainwright district at heart judging by the stand he took while in the capital.
